THE BELLER MUSEUM DRIVE

SATURDAY JUNE 25TH

Come join us for a relaxing scenic drive to a private family museum. At The Beller Museum, they house several collections of classic cars, tools, parts, and information that are assembled together to tell you stories about how vintage vehicles not only served their original owners, but also how they evolved through several "lives." They have an eclectic collection of automobiles that have been restored, preserved, repurposed, or well used on display. Although these vehicles may have entered the final stages of their use or purpose, they are still fascinating to see and invaluable to learn about.

We will meet in the Burr Ridge, Darien area around 9:00am. After a brief drivers meeting we will hit the road for a 1 to 1.5 hour relaxing, guided drive to the museum in Romeoville. We will spend about 1.5 hours at the museum then head around the corner to the Stone City Saloon for lunch and drinks.

This is not your typical museum with pristine, roped off cars. Most of their collections are survivors. I'm trying to make arrangements with the owner, Jordon Beller, to give us a behind the scenes tour.

More Details to Come: Look forward to seeing you all there...
